SINFIN MOOR, an extra parochial liberty, 3 miles S. b. E. from Derby, and on which Derby races were formerly held, contains 835A. 1R. 35P. of land, including 2A. 2R. 34P. of roads, and 12A. 3R. 15P. in drains; rateable value £1,388 3s. 6d. The Grand Stand formerly stood in a field opposite to Mrs. Eliz., Bancroft's, but has been taken down several years. This moor was enclosed in 1802, when the parishes and townships of Alvaston, Arleston, and Sinfin, Barrow, Boulton, Chellaston, Normanton, Osmaston, and Swarkeston, had right of stray upon it, and each had an allotment awarded, according to their respective size and claim. Sir J. H. Crewe, Bart., Richard Sale, Esq., Sir Robt. Wilmot, Bart., Messrs. Wright, James Sutton, Esq., Rev. Henry Des Vœux, Mrs. Eliz. Bancroft, and Mrs. Goodall, are the principal owners; with several smaller owners. The Derby canal crosses it, and occupies 8A. 3R. 23P. There are two farm houses and five cottages scattered on the common. The resident farmers are Elizabeth Bancroft and James Sherratt. The other land is occupied by farmers in the neighbouring parishes.

SHARDLOW AND GREAT WILNE form a joint township, and was made a new ecclesiastical district or parish in October, 1839.

SHARDLOW, is a considerable village on the Derby and Loughborough turnpike road, and the north bank of the river Trent, from 6 to 7 miles S.E. by E. from Derby; it contains 1,207A. 3R. 27P. of land, and in 1851 had 213 houses and 1,121 inhabitants, of whom 520 were males and 601 females; rateable value £3,393 18s. 6d. Edward A. Holder, Esq., is lord of the manor, and with James Sutton, Esq., Mr. Thos. Cowlshaw, Messrs. Soresby, the Earl of Harrington, Rev. Wm. Roby Burgin, Mr. James Hardy, and James and Charles Every Swindell, Esqs., are owners. The Trent and Mersey canal runs through the village, and joins the river Trent about half a mile below. On its banks and branches are several extensive coal and timber wharfs, with a large warehouse for iron, another for cheese, corn, and salt, and other warehouses belonging to three large carrying establishments; for many years this was an improving place, but since the opening of the Midland and other railways, the business of this place has been gradually declining. Cavendish Bridge, over the Trent, about a quarter of a mile S.E. from the village, is a substantial stone bridge of five elliptical arches, erected in 1771, at a cost of £3,333. It is 6 yards wide, and with the approaches 82 yards long. The Church, a handsome Gothic stone structure, with nave, chancel, a pinnacled tower and 6 bells; it is partly pewed, and a part open seats, has a gallery at the west end with an organ, was erected by voluntary contributions, at a cost of £6,000. The living is a rectory, value £300, in the patronage of James Sutton, Esq., and incumbency of the Rev. John Eaton, M.A. 82A. OR. 8P. of glebe belong to the rector. The Baptists have a small chapel here. A school, with a residence for the master, was erected by voluntary subscriptions in 1810; in 1838 it was taken down, and a handsome parochial school, with a good house in the centre for the master, was erected of brick, at a cost of about £900, raised by voluntary subscriptions. The boys' room will accommodate 60, average attendance 46, and the girls' room 60, about 40 attend. Besides the childrens' pence, the master receives £40 per annum, and the mistress £22 1s. There are 40 to each school who pay 1d. each per week, and the rest pay 2d. and 4d. The school is taught on the National plan. The Hall, a large handsome stone mansion, is the seat and property of James Sutton, Esq. Here are two Odd-Fellows' Lodges, and a Female Benefit Society, and an extensive Poor-law Union. Feast, third Sunday after November 5th.

SHARDLOW POOR-LAW UNION was formed in 1837, and consists of 49 parishes and townships, having 57 guardians, who meet every Monday, at 10 o'clock, at the Union Workhouse. The population comprised in the union, in 1851 was 32,322, of whom 15,787 were males, and 16,535 females, and had 6,851 inhabited houses, 270 uninhabited and 19 building. 34 townships are in Derbyshire, 8 in Leicestershire, and 7 in Nottinghamshire. It is divided into two districts with relieving officers, nine medical and five registration districts. The workhouse is a large handsome brick building, in the form of the letter L, situated on the London road, 6 miles S.E. by E. from Derby, calculated to accommodate 280. The gardens and other premises occupy 2A. 2R. 10P, of land. The cost of the structure and land was £6,000.

GREAT WILNE, a hamlet, small village, and joint township with Shardlow, ½ mile N.E. from Shardlow, and 7¼ miles S.E. by E. from Derby, contains about 250 acres of rich land. Edward A. Holden, Esq., J. & C. E. Swindell, Esqrs., with Mr. Thos. Cowlshaw and others, are owners. The river Derwent runs past this village, soon after which it has its confluence with the Trent. The New Connexion Methodists have a small brick chapel here, erected in 1816. The population of Great Wilne is given with the returns of Shardlow.

CHARITIES.—Leonard Fosbrooke, gave a legacy of £20, to be laid out in land by his executors, and the rents to be distributed to the poor of Shardlow. Camilla Burgen, had given a legacy of £40 to the poor of Shardlow. By indentures, dated 12th May, 1733, Thomas Twells, in consideration of £160 conveyed to Leonard Fosbrooke and Alpheus Burgen, as executors of the above-named donors, and their heirs, a piece of meadow ground containing 2A., called Dokey Holm, in Castle Donington, and 2R. of meadow land at Meadow Yates, and two ox pastures on the common pasture of Castle Donington. The open fields have been enclosed, and the property now consists of the Misbegotten close, (nearly three acres,) let for £9 14s. 0d. per annum, which is distributed amongst the poor.

STANTON-BY-DALE, a township, parish, and well built village, pleasantly situated on an eminence, 9 miles E. by N. from Derby, contains 1,491A. 1R. 17P. of land, rateable value £3,250 14s., and in 1851 had 122 houses and 689 inhabitants, of whom 366 were males and 323 females. Earl Stanhope is lord of the manor and sole owner, except of 11 acres of glebe, and 1 acre which belongs to Lord Middleton. The Church, dedicated to St. Michael, is a neat edifice, with nave, chancel, north aisle, low pinnacled tower with 4 bells, and a gallery at the west end. The altar-piece is a painting of the entombing of Christ. There are several monumental tablets of the Pilkington family, one of which is to Matthew Pilkington, L.L.B., prebendary of Lichfield, who is buried in the chancel with several of his relatives; he died November 4th, 1765. The living is an endowed rectory. The great tithes have been commuted into an annual payment of £300 per annum, the Rev. John Garton Howard, M.A., is the incumbent, and chaplain to Earl Stanhope and, resides at the rectory house, a neat mansion, nearly rebuilt by the present incumbent. A National school for girls and infants was erected in 1855, at a cost of about £500, towards which the late Lord Stanhope gave the site and £100. It is a handsome brick building containing 2 school rooms, and a residence for the teacher, the average attendance is about 45 girls and 30 infants. The Erewash and Nutbrook canal, which belongs to Earl Stanhope runs through the parish, as does also the Erewash Branch of the Midland Railway, and has a small station at Stanton Gate, about 1 mile N. from the village. Here is a colliery, and some very extensive iron works are being carried on near the canal. Near the centre of the village, on a pedestal with four steps, stands a stone cross, having a plain octagonal shaft about 9 feet high, with a fleur de lis at the top, bearing date 1632. In 1789, a club room was erected by subscription for the use of the male and female benefit societies. Feast, Sunday before Michaelmas day. The manor was purchased in the reign of Queen Elizabeth by Michael Willoughby, Esq., from the Babingtons. The Church of Stanton belonged to the Dale Abbey, to which monastery three bovats of land had been given. Sir Henry Willoughby gave the tithes of hay to the minister, reserving a rent of 5s. yearly to himself and his heirs.

CHARITIES.—Alms Houses were built at Stanton, in 1711, by Mrs. Winifrid Middlemore, in pursuance to the will of her husband, Joseph Middlemore, for four persons. In 1720, Mrs. W. Middlemore conveyed, on trust, certain lands to apply the yearly profits towards building alms houses, keeping them in repair, and to support such poor persons as from time to time should be placed in the said alms houses. Two others were built in 1735, by Mr. Greogry Gregory. The property consists of an estate at Sutton-in-Ashfield of 61A. 0R. 25P. of land, let for £63 16s.; and an estate in Long Bennington of 32A. 0R. 28P. of land, with a barn erected thereon, let for £41 15s. per annum. In 1825 there was a balance in the hands of Geregory Gregory, Esq., being the only surviving trustee, a new trust was created, and two additional alms houses have been built. The present trustees are Sir Robt. H. Bromley, Bart., Stoke Hall; J. S. Sherwin, Esq., Bramcote Hills; the Right Hon. Earl Stanhope; and the Rev. J. G. Howard, Stanton rectory.

Poor's Lands.—In 1706, Matthew Smith, Esq., in consideration of £35 4s., conveyed on trust a close at Kilbourne, in the parish of Horsley, called the Blackwalls or Netherhagg; the rents of the said close to be within 10 days from the time of payment delivered to the overseers of Stanton, to be by them distributed to the poor. The property consists of three parcels of land, together about 4 acres, and a cottage built by the tenant, who for a great length of time held the same at the yearly rent of £4. Michael Baguley the acting trustee, appointed with three others in November, 1820, distributes the proceeds amongst the poor. It is not known whence the money arose with which the purchase was made.

Risley School.—The inhabitants of this parish are entitled to the benefit of this school, of which the incumbent of Stanton is ex-officio, and two parishioners are by election trustees.—(See Risley.)

WESTON-UPON-TRENT is a small rural village and parish, 7 miles S.E. by S. from Derby, contains about 2,000 acres of strong fertile clay land, 77 houses, and 399 inhabitants, of whom 202 were males, and 197 females; rateable value, £3,832 3s. 5d. Sir Robert Wilmot Bart., is lord of the manor and principal owner, Thomas Pares, Esq., and E. A. Holden, Esq., are also owners. The Trent and Mersey Canal passes through the parish, and occupies 24A. 1R. 28P. of land, for which it is rated at the value of £600. The Church, dedicated to St. Mary, is a rectory, valued in the King's book £11 16s. 3d., now £594. Lawrence Hall, Esq., patron, Rev. Robert N. French, incumbent, for whom the Rev. F. W. Moore, officiates. It is a venerable stone edifice, embosomed in trees near the cliff, and has nave, chancel, side aisles, and embattled tower, surmounted by a spire with three bells. The seats are principally open. In the chancel is a splendid monument of Richard Sale, L.L.B., prebendary of Lichfield and rector of Weston, who died in 1625, and of Dorothy his wife. It is in three compartments, occupied by a male and female figures, and eight children, all kneeling. There is also one to the Rev. Robert Holden, rector, who died in 1739. The rector has 307A. of glebe and tithe allotment. The Baptists and Wesleyans have small chapels here, the former erected in 1845, and the latter in 1846. A school was established in 1844, and Sir Robert Wilmot, Bart., pays for 6 boys. The Hall, a large old brick mansion with stone dressings, is now occupied as a farm-house. It was formerly a seat of the Roper family, by whom it was built in the early part of the 17th century. It was afterwards in the family of Lee; of whom it was purchased by Thomas Pares, Esq., about the year 1790. The house and about 6A. of land was surrounded by a deep moat. We understand that only one third of the house was built; had the original plan been carried out, it would have been an immense pile of buildings. In 1847, Mr. George Towle, the present occupier, found three handsome carved oak shields amongst the rubbish, in one of the lumber rooms, all of which were painted blue; upon having them cleaned they were found to contain respectively the arms of Charles II, Sir Thomas Fairfax, and Lord Huntingtower. They are still in Mr. Towle's possession. Cliff Inn, a noted place, half a mile west, stands on a cliff, near which the canal and river Trent pass. At this cliff is an excellent quarry of good building stone, occupied by Mr. Wm. Shreeve, and a ferry to King's Newton. The scenery round Weston is very picturesque, and particularly from Weston Hill Farm. At Domesday survey this manor was in the hands of. the Crown, it was given afterwards to Hugh Lupus, and by him to the abbot and convent of Chester. After the Reformation it was granted to Sir William Paget, it afterwards came into the Holden family; about the year 1649, an ancestor of Sir Robert Wilmot purchased the greatest part of the estate.

CHARITIES.—Ann Holden, in 1766, gave to the rector and churchwardens of Weston £50, to be disposed of by them in such proportions towards the relief and maintenance of the poor, as they should deem most proper. This legacy, with the sum of £10 given by some person unknown, is in the Derby Savings' bank.

WILLINGTON, is a pleasant well-built village and parish, situated on the north bank of the Trent, 6½ miles S.W. from Derby, and 4½ N.E. from Burton-upon-Trent. Here are several neat mansions, occupied by the Rev. Francis Ward Spilsbury, George Smallwood, Esq., and Mrs. Francis Allsopp. The two first named are the property of the Rev. F. W. Spilsbury. The parish contains, 1,193A. 0R. 38P. of light fertile land, and in 1851 had 109 houses, and 442 inhabitants, of whom 227 were males, and 215 females; rateable value, £3,743 6s. Sir Robert Burdett, Bart., is lord of the manor and principal owner. Etwall and Repton corporation and the Rev. F. W. Spilsbury, are also owners. The Grand Trunk canal passes near the north side of the village, on which Messrs. Bass and Smith, of Horninglow, have a large warehouse and coal wharf. The Birmingham and Derby railway (West branch of the Midland) passes through the village, and occupies 15A. of land, and has a neat station. The booking office is a small brick building, the roof of which is just level with the rails, on account of the height of the embankment, and the line crossing two of the streets, by stone bridges, the means of approach from the booking office to the platform, is by a flight of 31 stone steps, near which are two good inns, with stabling and every other convenience, viz, the Rising Sun and Green Man. In 1839, a good substantial bridge of 5 arches was erected across the Trent to Repton, on which there is a toll house; it was built by subscription, at a cost of £9,000, and the approaches to it about £3,000, for the construction of which the public are much indebted to Mr. Stephen Glover, of Derby. The Church, dedicated to St. Michael, is an ancient stone edifice, with nave, chancel, and pinnacled tower, in which are three bells, and contains several neat tablets. The living is a vicarage, valued in the King's book at £4 17s. 3d., now £82, has been augmented with £800 Queen Anne's bounty, vested in land at Ashby-de-la-Zouch, Leicestershire. The corporation of Etwall and Repton are patrons, and the Rev. Wm. Findlay, incumbent, for whom a vicarage is about to be erected. The Baptists and Wesleyan Methodists have each places of worship here. A small school was erected in 1831, by the Rev. F. W. Spilsbury, who principally supports the same. The Odd Fellows have a lodge, and there is also a Sick society here. The feast is held first Sunday after the 19th Sept.

The manor at Domesday survey belonged partly to the King and partly to Ralph Fitz-hubert. King Henry II. gave a manor to Burton Abbey. The other manor appears to have been given with the church by the family of Willington, to the prior and convent of Repton, to whom the tithes were appropriated in 1223. Wm. Westcote conveyed this manor, about the year 1554, to Sir John Porte; founder of Repton school CHARITIES.—Sudbury Rent Charge.—The yearly sum of £2 is paid by the agent of Lord Vernon, as a rent charge on some part of the Sudbury estate, which is distributed on St. Thomas's day.

In the Parliamentary Returns of 1786, 10s. per annum is mentioned, supposed to be a charge on some property at Barrow. The sum is paid through the Burton bank and distributed on St. Thomas's day. There is also mention of a donation of land by some person unknown, producing £1 per annum. The sum is now paid by Mr. Holbrooke, tanner, at Repton, and distributed as above.

Benjamin Spilsbury, in 1815, left a rent charge of £5, out of a building in Willington and a piece of land used as a wharf, upon trust that they should distribute the same to poor men and women belonging to the parish of Willington. This sum is given to 20 poor men or women about February.

John Gisborne's Charity.—(See St. Werburgh, Derby.)—The portion applicable to this parish is for buying coats or gowns, and a distribution of money, Fidern School.—(See Mickleover.)—The poor of this parish are entitled to send their children to this school.

WILNE parish contains the townships of Church Wilne, Draycott, and Hopwell, the principal part of the township and parochial chapelry of Risley, and the parochial chapelry of Breaston, in the prebendary of Sawley. The entire parish contains 4,390A. 3R. 3P. of light sandy land, and in 1851 had 454 houses and 2,094 inhabitants, of whom 1022 were males and 1,072 females; rateable value £11,931 5s. 11d.

CHURCH or LITTLE WILNE, is a small village and township, situate on the Derwent, over which is a bridge, which divides it from Great Wilne and Shardlow, $7\frac{3}{4}$ miles S.E. from Derby. The Earl of Harrington is lord of the manor and owner of the whole, except 17 acres of glebe which belongs to the prebendary; the glebe land for the whole parish is let for about £163 per year. The Church, dedicated to St. Chad, is a venerable edifice, with nave, chancel, south aisle, embattled tower, and 4 bells, with a gallery at the west end, and an organ. On the south side the chancel is a mausoleum, belonging to the Willoughby family. The entrance door is of oak, beautifully carved, with a date, 1624. The floor is of tessellated bricks. It is lighted by 3 windows of stained glass. One represents the birth, one the crucifixion, and the other the ascension of Christ. In the interior is a handsome black and white marble monument, to Anne Willoughby, dated 1688. A very splendid one of white veined marble, richly gilt and coloured, with a male and female figure lying in a recess, beautifully ornamented. They are John Willoughby, of Risley, and Frances his wife. He died in January, 1605, and she in 1602. Several others of the family are interred here. Several handsome mural tablets have been erected to various persons. The living is a perpetual curacy in the prebendal court of Sawley, has been augmented with £1600 parliamentary grant; patron Bishop of Lichfield. Rev. Samuel Hey, M.A., incumbent, and Rev. Wm. Lloyd, M.A., curate. The population and acreage are given with Draycott.

CHARITIES. —Church Land.—The rent of a piece of land in the manor of Draycott, in this parish, comprising 60 yards in length, and 20 yards 1 foot in breadth, is situated at the south east corner of the Wycrofts. The owner pays 6s. to the church-wardens for this land. The boundaries are to be ascertained by proper marks and a fair rent procured.

BREASTON is a large village and parochial chapelry $7\frac{3}{4}$ miles E.S.E. from Derby, contains about 1,447 acres of fertile land, enclosed in 1757, 156 houses and 680 inhabitants, of whom 329 were males and 351 females; rateable value £3,317 10s. 9d. The Rev. John Hancock Hall, executors of John Attenborough, M.D., J. W. Chapel, gent., William Charlton, Esq., Mr. Thomas Harrison, Mr. John Stevens, Risley school, Burton school, and the Earl of Harrington are owners, the former, lord of the manor.

This manor, BRAIDESTUNE, at Domesday survey was held with Risley, by Roger de Busli. The chapel, dedicated to St. Michael, is a perpetual curacy, annexed to Risley, value £119. It has been augmented with £200 benefactions, £600 Queen Anne's bounty, and £1,000 parliamentary grant. Bishop of Lichfield, patron; Rev. Henry Banks Hall, LL.B., of Risley, incumbent; Rev. J. C. Jones, curate. The chapel, a venerable edifice, has nave, chancel, south aisle, a low tower surmounted by a lofty spire with three bells, was new pewed and a gallery erected and repaired in 1840, at a cost of £200. The font is a rich specimen of Derbyshire spar, dated 1750, with a fluted column and bowl. The chapel yard was enclosed with a neat iron railing in 1823, when it was consecrated for a burial ground. The tithes were commuted in 1842, for £368, and will lapse into the hands of the Ecclesiastical Commissioners in 20 years, from the death of the late Dr. Gardener. Here are 22A. of glebe land. The New Connexion Methodists have a chapel built 1803, and enlarged 1816, and the Primitive Methodists have one built 1852. Twenty lace machines and 40 hosiery frames are employed in the village. Feast, nearest Sunday to Old Michaelmas day.

John Charleton, in 1711, gave £100 to purchase lands, the rents thereof to be distributed on Christmas day, to the poor of Breaston. In 1715, £88 was invested in two closes in East Bridgford, called the Pingle close, and Kirkhill close. In the same year a further sum of £15 was laid out in lands lying in the open fields, which were enclosed in 1796. The property now consists of two fields, each containing 4A., now let for £16 per annum, and the rents are distributed amongst the poor, in sums varying from 2s. to 7s. in clothing.

DRAYCOTT is a large and well-built village and joint township with Church or Little Wilne, 7 miles E.S.E. from Derby, contains 1,397A. 3R. 3P. of land mostly a light sand, 245 houses, and 1,161 inhabitants, of whom 568 were males, and 593 females; rateable value, £5,163 5s. 2d. Earl of Harrington, Admiral Sir G. Mundy, Mrs. Sarah Scott, the Prebendary of Sawley (216A.), the Rev. F. N. Highmore, John Curzon, Esq., Messrs. Towle, and Mr. James Nutt, are owners. The former is lord of the manor. The Nottingham railway runs on the north side of the village, and occupies 11A. 3R. 18P. of land, and the Canal, 58A. 2R. 9P. A part of the township pays a tithe rent charge of £9 13s. 6d. to Thos. Pares, Esq. In 1800, the late Mr. Towle established a cotton mill here. The present factory was erected in 1814, and enlarged in 1818, and a steam engine of 16 horse power added. In 1842, a lace factory was erected in which about 40 machines are worked, since which time a doubling shed has been built, which gives employment to thrice the number of hands employed before; another mill near the Canal, with a steam engine of 16 horses power is at present unoccupied. The Wesleyan Methodist have a large handsome chapel, built 1830, at a cost of £700, to seat 300 persons. The former chapel, built in 1800, of which John Nelson laid the first stone, is now used as a Sunday school; 100 attend, and a day, school for poor children is supported by subscription. In 1854, the Parochial schools were erected for boys and girls, at a cost of £900, raised by subscriptions, aided by a grant from Government of £386. They are large and commodious buildings of brick and stone, and afford accommodation for 180 children; about 120 attend, of which number sixty are educated at the expense of Messrs. Towle. Here are two Odd Fellows' lodges, and two Sick societies. Feast, nearest Sunday to St. Michael.

Poor's Money.—A sum of £9 was left by some donor unknown: 9s. interest is paid for it, distributed on St. Thomas's day, in sums of 3d. and 6d. to poor widows and others of the township.

HOPWELL township, 7 miles E. from Derby, contains 4, houses, and 42 inhabitants, of whom 20 were males, and 22 females, and 610A. of strong clay land; rateable value, £950 Thos. Pares, Esq. is the owner, and resides at the hall, a handsome brick mansion, seated on an eminence, within a well-wooded park of about 90A., from which extensive views into Nottinghamshire, Leicestershire, Northamptonshire, and Staffordshire, are obtained, The tithe is paid by a modus of £10 per annum, to the incumbent of Wilne.

The manor (OPEWELLE) was held, by Ralph Fitz Hubert, at Domesday survey, under of Chester. In 1296, it was, held by Ralph de Shirley, under the Earl of Lancaster. It passed to the Sacheverells, and, in 1661 Ferdinando Sacheverell bequeathed it to his cousin Henry Hayes, gent, who sold it in 1731, to Bache Thornhill, Esq., who in 1734, alienated it to Sir Bibye Lake, Bart., whose grandson Sir Jas. Winter Lake, Bart., sold it in 1784, to the father of the present owner.

RISLEY parochial chapelry and neat rural village and township, situated 8 miles E. by S, from Derby, contains, 836A., of rich strong clay land, and in 1851 had 49 houses, and 211 inhabitants, of whom 105 were males, and 106 females; rateable value, £2,500 10s. 0d. Rev. John Hancock Hall, Mr. Thos. Harrison, Thos. Pares, Esq., Mrs. Mary Fellows, Mr. Henry Porter, Rev. Samuel Hey, Mr. Joseph Fletcher, Mr. Thos. Cooper, and others are also owners. The former is lord of the manor. A tithe rent charge of £226 1s. is paid to the lessee for the Wilne part, and a rent charge of modusses of £4 amounting to £30 15s. 7d., is paid to the lessee of the prebendary of Sandiacre. Here are 7A. of glebe. The Chapel, dedicated to All Saints, was built by Michael Willoughby, Esq., in 1593. It is a neat edifice, with nave, chancel, handsome pinnacled tower and three bells. It was, thoroughly repaired, repewed, and a north aisle added in 1841, at a cost of £545, defrayed by a subscription of the patron and inhabitants, aided by a grant from the Derby Diocesan Church building Society. The font is of beautiful Derbyshire marble, richly ornamented. There is a small galley at the west end, and the east window is composed of beautiful stained glass, representing St. Peter and Paul. The chancel is divided from the nave by a neat screen and here are two marble tablets to the memory of the Hall family. The living is a perpetual curacy, now valued at £160, has been augmented with £200 benefactions, £400 Queen Anne's bounty, and £200 parliamentary grant. The Bishop of Lichfield, patron, Rev. Henry Banks Hall, LL.B., incumbent. Risley Park, which contains 24A. 3R. 36P. of land, is a tithe-free estate, in Sandiacre parish. The poor of Risley have free access to a library supported at the sole expence of the Rev. H. B. Hall. Feast, Sunday before November 5th.

Sir Hugh Willoughby, a native of this place, was employed to discover the North West Passage, in the reign of Henry VI., but was frozen to death with his crew, in 1554. At the Domesday survey, Roger de Busli held this manor, but Levinus possessed one-third in the reign of Edward I. William Morteyne held it under the Paveley family. The heiress of his son Roger, brought it to Sir Richard de Willoughby, one of the justices, and some time chief justice of the common pleas. His younger son Hugh settled at Risley, where his descendants continued for several generations. Henry Willoughby, Esq., was created a Baronet in 1611. It became the property of Sir Thos. Ashton, Bart., who married Anne, one of the co-heiresses. The manor was purchased of Sir Willoughby Aston, Bart., by John Hancock, Esq.

Risley School.—Michael Willoughby, and Catherine his wife, gave 20 nobles (£6 13s. 4d. per annum; which was increased by Sir Henry Willoughby, their grandson, to 20 marks, (£13 6s. 8d.) towards maintaining a schoolmaster at Risley. Mrs Elizabeth Gray, their descendant, having built a school-house, with a habitation for the master and usher, in the year 1718, endowed the schools with lands, then worth £50 per annum, for teaching all the children of Risley, and the sons only of the inhabitants of Breaston, Sandiacre, Dale Abbey, Stanton near Dale, Wilsthorp, Draycott, and Hopwell, to read, write, and cast accounts, and the head master to teach grammar and the classics to such boy as are qualified and desirous to learn—both masters to be constantly resident in the school house. The said Elizabeth Gray, in 1720, save the sum of £200 to be laid out lands, and the profits thereof applied to the use of a schoolmistress, who should teach all the girls in Risley, and an equal number of girls of the other townships whose male children were free, as should be appointed by the trustees. She also gave £100 to lands for the maintenance of an assistant to teach all the girls to write and cast accounts and £100 to purchase lands, to pay the fines off, or for enfranchising a copyhold estate at Idridge Hay. By a codocil to her will, dated March 2, 1721, she devised her messuage and lands in Long Clawson, and Hose, in the county of Leicester, upon trust to John White that, upon the payment of £400 to him by the governors of Queen Anne's bounty, £40 yearly, part of the said premises, should be settled as an augmentation to the chapelies of Risley and Breaston—£20 each. In 1722, John White, and the governors of Queen Anne's bounty, who paid £400, conveyed the estates at Long Clawson and Hose to the above-named chapelries, reserving £6 16s. to the schools, in lieu of a legacy in her will of £6 13s. 4d. The school premises consist of a good house, with gardens and croft, containing 1A. 1R. 28P. for the head master; a house for the under master, with garden and croft, 1A. 2R. 21P. Two schools, forming distinct building, one of which is divided into two parts—one part being the grammar school and the other the girl's school—with two rooms over, in which the schoolmistress resides; the other school is used as the English school for boys. The following is a summary of the annual income of the estates—Rent charge out of the manor of Wilsthorpe, £13 6s. 8d.; rents of the premises conveyed by Mrs Gray's deed of 1718, £171 17s. 5d; dividens on £100 3 per cent. consols, £3, rent of the estate of Long Clawson and Hose, £190, which contains 126A, making a total of £378 4s. 1d. The number of scholars is now limited to 100, divided according to the population except Risley, which has no limit. The present numbers are, 20 boys and 10 girls from Sandiacre, 17 boys and 8 girls from Breaston; 17 boys and 8 girls from Dale Abbey, 28 boys and 14 girls from Draycott, 7 boys and 4 girls from Risley, 1 boy and girl from Hopwell, 12 boys and 6 girls from Great Stainton, and 1 boy and 1 girl from Wilsthorpe. The English master has a salary of £85. £15 is divided betwixt the head boy and the monitors of the school, and the schoolmistress' salary is £15.

CHARITIES.—Sir Henry Willoughby, Bart., Anchitel Gray, Esq., Willoughby Gray, Esq., and Elizabeth Gray, had given sums of money amounting to £71, for which sum, in 1714, Francis Handley conveyed to trustees a close of 6A., except 20s. paid out of the said close to the poor of West Hallam, for the payment of which he granted a rent charge of 20s., to be paid out of Long Close, in Mapperley; one third of the rent to be applied for the reparation of Risley school, the remaining two-thirds to the poor of Risley. The rent charge of 20s. on the Long close has been many years unpaid to the poor of West Hallam.

There is a sum of £8 left to the poor of Risley, issuing out of a field at Mapperley, two thirds of which are distributed to the poor, and the remainder applied for the repairs of the schoolhouse.

Risley is also entitled to two of the almshouses, at Ilkeston, left by John Smedley, and built and endowed by Richard Smedley, in 1744, with a rent charge of £60. (See Ilkeston.)
