WESLEY COLLEGE, Glossop road.—This large and beautiful building was erected in the years 1836-7-8, at a cost of upwards of £30,000, by the Wealeyan Methodists, and was opened in 1838, as the Wesleyan Proprietary Grammar School. In the year 1844, it became a college of the University of London, under the title of "Wesley College." It furnishes accommodation for about 200 students and pupils, and is conducted by a governor, head-master, and nineteen other masters and professors. It was established to give a first-class education to the sons of the wealthier classes among the Wesleyan Methodists, in connexion with instruction in the doctrines and principles of Christianity, as held by that church. The sons of other persons are admitted, but all conform to the same religious training. Rev. S. D. Waddy, governor and chaplain, H. M. Shera, Esq., M.A, headmaster, Rev. J. M. Raby, G. B. Samuel, and J. Seward, Esqs., classical tutors, E. Shaw, John Berriman, John Wood, and R. W. Allen, mathematical tutors, G. Elam, H. Parkin, W. Gilbert, and W. B.
